

SOLD

Autumn 2019

In the research environment of Language Studies and Comparative Literature including Subject Didactics (SOLD), we apply a perspective which is both subject-oriented and didactics-oriented on Language Studies and Comparative Literature. The SOLD seminar series constitutes a focal point with the aim of promoting research in the humanities and subject didactics.

18 September:

Vivien Heller, University of Wuppertal, Germany

The interactional construction of competence: Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder in classroom contexts and beyond

Time: 13:15-14:45

Venue: Ypsilon, Västerås

2 October:

Thomas Sjösvärd, Mälardalen University

Det överdådiga Sparta /Luxurious Sparta (in Swedish)

Time: 13:15-14:00

Venue: Ypsilon, Västerås

Karl Ågerup, Mälardalen University

Mottagandet av Houellebecqs Underkastelse /The Reception of Michel Houellebecq's Submission (in Swedish)

Time: 14:00- 14:45

Venue: Ypsilon, Västerås

6 November:

Kenan Dikilitaş, University of Stavanger, Norway

Facilitating action research with language teachers

Time: Time: 13:15-14:45

Venue: U3-104, Västerås

27 November:

A taste of methods used in SOLD

Time: 13:15-14:45

Venue: U3-104, Västerås

18 December:

Miriam Stenbacka, Mälardalen University

90% seminar for licentiate thesis (in Swedish)

Discussant: Anna Lyngfelt, Gothenburg University

Venue: H595, Eskilstuna

MÄLARDALEN UNIVERSITY
SWEDEN